Story

Deep inside the rainforest, where no humans have ever set foot into, lived a little fire spirit under the earth with all his friends and family. One day, all of a sudden, the earth broke up and throw him and all of his fellow fire spirits out into the forest. They jumped and played around but soon they noticed, the forest wasn't as fireproof as the earth and stones down where they lived before.

So the forest begun to burn and the firespirits grew and spread in it. Most of the animals already fled from the fire, but the plants living there had no chance and had to see themself burning down.

The forest spirit who had noticed all that didn't want to let the fire spirits go to far and called the clouds to send them rain, saving the forest from the fire.

The Droplings

The Droplings are little water spirits that arise from rain, rivers and other water sources.

They mostly come up after big fires to help the plants regrow. But if they come in really big groups, they can also be a deadly threat.

If they come in millions, they can create a big zunami like wave and destroy anything in their path. Though, most of the time they are friendly beings.

In Game

The Little Drop - Forest spirits of Hope

Here we see an in game scene. On the top left, you can see the players stats. The upper one will show, how many soul points you have collected in the level by planting seeds. The lower shows you how much water your body has left for planting and watering the seeds.

In the top right you can see a hint to the help sequence for planting seeds if you want to see it again. Simply press the F1 key on your keyboard.

In this screen, you can see how to plant a seed. As soon as you collected and carrying a seed, you can plant them in those prepared earth places. Some of the plants will grow into bridges, leading you to new areas of the forest. But keep an eye on your body as it will shrink with every planted seed. On the other hand, each planted seed will give you soul points.

You can plant seeds by pressing spacebar.
